

Kim Skinner is currently Director of Elementary Curriculum & Instruction at Gregory-Portland ISD in Portland, Texas. She has a Ph.D. in Curriculum and Instruction-Literacy Studies from Texas A&M University-Corpus Christi. Before accepting the school district position this year, Kim taught various reading courses as a TAMUCC graduate assistant and worked as a university supervisor for student teachers. For the last five years, she was also employed as an educational consultant for nine South Texas school district. Her public school teaching experience includes thirteen years at three different campuses, as an elementary classroom teacher, gifted and talented teacher, and campus reading specialist. Highlights of her teaching career include recognition in 2004 as the District Teacher of the Year for the Flour Bluff Independent School District and the selection of her Children as Philosophers after-school project for grant funding.